DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-4, are drawn to a multimode decoding apparatus, classified in class 704, subclass 264.
 - II. Claims 5-6, are drawn to a stationary noise generating apparatus, classified in class 704, subclass 228.
 - III. Claims 7-12, are drawn to a multimode speech encoding apparatus using correlation, classified in class 704, subclass 263.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as claims 1-4 are drawn to a multimode decoding apparatus using excitation information classified in class 704, subclass 264, and, claims 5-6 of invention II has separate utility such as a stationary noise generating apparatus classified in class 704, subclass 228 .

See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as claims 1-4 are drawn to a multimode decoding apparatus using excitation information classified in class 704, subclass 264, and, claims 7-12 of invention III has a separate utility such a multimode coding apparatus using autocorrelation/correlation information classified in class 704, subclass 263. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, claims 5-6 of invention II has separate utility such as a stationary noise generating apparatus classified in class 704, subclass 228, and, claims 7-12 of invention III has a separate utility such a multimode coding apparatus using autocorrelation/correlation information classified in class 704, subclass 263. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to Applicant's representative on 6/16/05 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
